

EDUCATION IN THE CHURCH

with Alyson Huntly

IN PERSON SESSIONS:

SEPT 5-9 9am-4pm

WEBINAR:

OCT 12 1-4pm

DEC 14 1-4pm

2017

This course may be taken as a three-credit course in the M.Div. program.

Equipping church leaders with skills, knowledge, and resources for the educational ministry within a changing context, with a focus on:

- Visions of educational ministry for the church engaged in the world
- Planning and evaluation of learning experiences
- Multiple intelligence/multiple ways to learn
- Facilitation and leadership skills
- Using, developing, and evaluating resources
- Faith formation through life stages and across the ages
- Education for justice and social transformation
- Faith practices
- Ministry with youth and young adults
- Children's spirituality.

Alyson Huntly is Director of Pastoral Studies at The United Theological College, Montreal where she works to equip transformative leaders for the church engaged in the world. Her focus is youth and young adult ministries, faith formation, and emerging expressions of Christianity. Alyson's books include Daring to Be United; Naomi's Daughters: Bridging the Generations, The Painted Trunk, and The Gentle Dark. Alyson is founder and co-director of La Présence—Qi, an innovative expression of contemporary spirituality and community engagement in Southwest Montreal.

Cost: $275 ($375 if taken as a three-credit M. Div. course) includes workshop with David Csinos. Course pack and text book is extra.

Register by email at: info@dio-mdtc.ca

For more information, contact Karen Egan at MDTC call 514-849-3004 ext. 227 or email karenegan@dio-mdtc.ca